Canada:

The two agencies funding medical research in Canada are CIHR (Canadian Institute of Health Research) and NSERC (National Sciences and Engineering Research Council of Canada). Both have funding competitions at the Masters, Doctoral, and Post Doctoral level. Smaller funding agencies, such as the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada provide funding to specific research topics.

Funding for local PhD and Master students, who are interested in performing their studies in high standard universities abroad.

(For Doctoral Degree) <http://www.conicyt.cl/573/article-32186.html>

(For Master Degree) <http://www.conicyt.cl/573/article-32188.html>

Funding for co-tutorial thesis: this program is for local students who are interested in developing their thesis with one Chilean and one international tutor. The aim of this program is to stimulate the collaboration between two laboratories.

<http://www.conicyt.cl/573/article-31522.html>

With this same idea, there are specific programs for cooperation in New Zealand and Australia <http://www.conicyt.cl/573/article-30635.html>

Or for cooperation in France

<http://www.conicyt.cl/573/article-31574.html>

Funding for foreign students to undertake a PhD in Chile. This program covers all the expenses in the local university, travel, some money for accommodation and some money for salary.
